PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER In a series of interviews, senators accused senior lawmakers of spreading government propaganda to help communist rebels during the past five to six years (see p. 10, front page).

Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile and Sen. Juan Miguel Zubarte (PDP-Laban) said that 112 million pesos (about $200 million) for the communist New People's Army (NPA) was provided by the government.

First overseas voter is seaman in Brunei

By Jerome Aning

PHILIPPINE embassies and consulates around the world opened yesterday to receive seamen casting their absentee votes for president, vice president, 22 senators and party-list representative.

A Filipino seaman in Brunei was the first to cast his vote, followed by another in Berlin, Germany, Department of Foreign Affairs Overseas Absentee Voting Secretariat deputy chair Catherine Maceda said in an interview yesterday with cable TV station ANC.

Some 2,300 seafarers who registered as absentee voters have two months to cast their votes in precincts in Philippine diplomatic offices in about 70 countries and territories.

Voting centers in Agaña, Guam, Saipan in the Northern Marianas, and Canberra and Sydney in Australia, were the first to open yesterday. The last polling station to open was in Honolulu, Hawaii.

DFA Secretary Delia Albert said Philippine diplomatic posts around the world made the announcements in newspapers, as well as in their websites, informing Filipinos of the venues, dates and time schedules during which they could cast their votes.

DFA spokesperson Julia Heidenreich said this because of the long voting period, she expects voters to trickle in the voting centers.

The department is anticipating problems for seafarers who may not make it to the polling centers they specified as where they would vote when they registered last year. This could be caused by arrival delays, or destination changes of the ships where Filipinos are working. If this is the case, the absentee voter could request that his ballot be sent to the polling center of the new country where he would be casting his vote.

According to the Commission on Elections, there are about 360,000 overseas absentee voters. The land-based voters will begin casting their votes on April 11. Mail-voting is allowed for land-based voters in three countries: Canada, the United Kingdom and Japan.

The DFA and the Comelec reminded all overseas Filipino voters to check if their names were included in the certified list of absentee voters posted at the Comelec website (www.comelec.gov.ph) before heading off to the voting precincts.

GMA names 18 new justices to CA, 30 prosecutors

By Philip C. Tubera

WHILE she dillydallied on the appointment of a new justice to the Supreme Court, President Macapagal-Arroyo has appointed 18 new justices to the Court of Appeals and named 30 new prosecutors before the election ban on appointments took effect on Thursday.

Among the new CA appointees were former election commissioner Teresita Dy-Linco Flores.

The Office of the Chief Presidential Legal Counsel informed SC Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr. in a letter dated May 10 that the President appointed the new CA justices on March 9.

Chief State Prosecutor Jovencito Zano confirmed the appointment of the new prosecutors at the Department of Justice.

The Palace, however, remained mum on the controversial appointment of Sandiganbayan Presiding Justice Minita Chico-Nazario in the Supreme Court. Nazario was supposed to replace Ateneño Justice Jose Bellosillo who retired in November last year.

SC Clerk of Court Luzviminda Puno said as of press time yesterday that the Judicial and Bar Council still has yet to receive any official communication from Malacañang about the SC vacancy.

Aside from Flores, who served as the Commission on Elections from February 1995 to February 2002, the other CA appointees were Isan P. Diociano, Santiago J. Ranada, Jr., Arcangelica Lomak, Leonito Tagle, Japer Dimaniguan, Celia Ufano-Lasagpo, Merina Arevalo-Zenarosa, Ramiro A. Abadimon, Estela Perlus-Bernabe, Mariflor Castillo, Arturo Tayag, Ferinando D. Villon, Vicente L. Tap, Rankin M. Bano Jr., Romulo V. Borja, Edgardo A. Camello, and Rodrigo Lim Jr.

The new CA justices were all former judges of regional trial courts.

With the new appointees, the CA now has 69 justices. Under Republic Act 8246, which became law in 1996, the number of CA divisions were increased from 17 to 23.

The six new divisions will open in Cebu and Cagayan De Oro, with each city having three divisions manned by nine justices.

Political ads invade the Web

By Vincent Calbreza

BAGUIO CITY—How much money can a political candidate save by advertising on the Internet?

Quite a lot, since Internet-based firms are charging a measly P2,000 for 45 days in newly-constructed campaign websites, the Inquirer learned.

This disturbs the Commission on Elections because the Internet remains an unregulated medium, said lawyer Armando Melara, Comelec regional director.

Gerry Mayona, proprietor of the website www.Baguiocity.com, said he started offering national and local parties a P2,000 cover charge to "host" their party platforms after Comelec Manila director Ferdinand Rafanan confirmed that the Internet remained an election gray area. Rafanan handles public relations issues.

Several other web firms have followed suit, according to Mayona.

"I started with local candidates," he said, "but soon realized that even national candidates might be (interested in local exposure), especially since Filipinos abroad who are also voting habitually turn to the webpages of their hometowns."

10.5-M kids immunized vs measles: 90% of target

By Monica S. Moore

WITH AN average of 100,000 children immunized against measles daily for the past month, the Department of Health achieved 90 percent of its 10 million target.

Almost 10.5 million children below eight years old received measles vaccine all over the country during the 10.5th Measles Uptake Target (MUT) campaign, the DHS announced yesterday.

Dr. Raji Banerji, a representative of the Japanese Government, which donated $2.5 million worth of vaccine and medical supplies to the campaign, lauded the "very high vaccine coverage (90 percent)" to say that it was "good."

Health Secretary Manoj Dasgupta, however, said that while many vaccinated children were a strong early start to the campaign, he said the DHS target is to do at least 95 percent of the target.

The DHS is going to do a survey of vaccination status of all children below eight years old and give them measles vaccination and of another 4.5 million kids from one to school children to keep the campaign.

Malaysian monitors to visit 10 MILF bases

MALAYSIAN counter-insurgency monitors will inspect 10 bases of the Moro Islamic Liberation Front in the coming days ahead of the anniversary of human peace talks with the government in April.

Malaysia has been leading negotiations to end more than three decades of a Muslim separatist rebellion in which more than 120,000 people have been killed in the South.

The observers will inspect bases in Indonesia and hold nine days of consultations with officials from the Philippine government and the MILF, military officials said in a joint spokeswoman said on Friday.

"We are very sure that the Malaysian monitors are coming this way," said Lt. Gen. Burhanuddin Gaffar, Armed Forces chief of staff. "The day after tomorrow has not been fixed."

The MILF spokesman said the upcoming mission would end on March 14.

The bases in a series of consultations was agreed in June, before Wednesday's peace talks. Some officials noted progress in one of the bases due to its proximity to the Malaysian monitors.

The shifting focus after about 200 MILF units surrendered and others changing names into indigenous and MILF-like forces.

"That's an indication that we hope it will not continue," said Maj. Gen. Datu Abdul Kader, the MILF spokesman.

Senior military officials said more guidance had been agreed to pressure both sides down, occasionally shooting each other during the monitors' inspection. Sources
